The effects of coronavirus on Digia's business

The uncertainty caused by the corona continues:

- The impact on customers' business and purchasing behaviour is difficult to predict.
- Volume of development projects and project implementation schedules.
- Possible impact on the start-up of new projects.

Digia is supported in uncertainty by:

- A large proportion of the business of continuing services and maintenance.
- Wide offer.
- Cost-conscious action.

Our financial position is stable and our liquidity is at a good level.

The coronavirus crisis has highlighted the opportunities opened up by digitalisation – in the best case scenario, the current crisis will accelerate the digitalisation trend in the years ahead.

Profit guidance for 2020

- Digia's net sales will grow and operating profit (EBITA) will improve compared to 2019.

Operating profit before amortisation of acquisition costs (EBITA)
